The Awards Ceremony

The final day of THE CENTRAL EUROPEAN OLYMPIAD IN INFORMATICS ended with the Awards Ceremony and the official closure of the competition.

The Awarding Ceremony was held in the festivity hall of the Neamt County Council where most of the individuals who came to the Opening Ceremony were present now as well.

At the beginning of the ceremony all the teams were invited in front of the audience, on the stage for photos and big rounds of applause from the spectators and the organisers. They all received traditional gifts as souvenirs of their participation in this special event in Romania.

The team leaders were given traditional purses with Romanian hand-made objects inside. The organisers were called in front of the hall as well in order to be rewarded with small gifts for their work during this competition.

The best contestants were rewarded with gold, silver and bronze medals for their great performances this week and also with some small gifts. Although not everyone received a medal, the contestants understood that what mattered most was their experience from this competition.

In order to end the night with big smiles on people's faces, there were some artistic moments organized for the delight of the audience. Firstly, a student from Victor Brauner Arts High School impressed the whole crowd with her beautiful voice, and then a singer, who was wearing traditional Romanian clothes, performed Romanian folk songs.

Last but not least an ex-student from Victor Brauner Arts High School played three songs on the violin accompanied by her teacher at the piano, mesmerising the whole audience and making them stand up and applaud continuously for a few minutes. At the end, the organisers thanked all the teams for their participation in this competition and wished them good luck on their future ones.

Encho Mishinev- Gold Medal with the highest score

Q: Hi. What is your opinion about the contest?

A: It was very good. I liked all the problems. They were pretty difficult, but I managed to do something.

Q: Did you have enough time to finish all the problems?
A: No, not all of them. The problems were difficult in both days but they could have been solved for an International Olympiad.
Q: Can you give me some impressions about this competition?
A: It was very good for me to be for the first time to the CEOI, and it was really, really good.
Q: Have you visited Romania before?
A: No, it's not my first time in Romania, I was in Bucharest. But it is my first time to the CEOI, at an International Olympiad.
Q: Are you satisfied with your own activity in this contest?
A: Yes. I'm very satisfied to be here.
Q: Will you return in Romania as a tourist?
A: As a tourist... I really don't know, but to another competition maybe.
Q: Did you like what you visited?
A: Yes... I really liked everything.
Q: Do you have a message for the young people who want to study Informatics?
A: To practice a lot, there's nothing more they can do, but devote a lot of time.

The 23rd edition of the Central European Olympiad in Informatics took place at the National College of Informatics in Piatra Neamt and covered a whole week (18 – 23 July 2016). Time seemed to fly extremely fast in the five days of the event and everybody focused on the activities in the programme which alternated hard work with relaxation.

During each of the two contest days, the competitors had to find solutions for three challenging tasks, which they considered extremely difficult. All of them did their best to be among the first, and many were sad when they got out of the examination room. They already knew their scores because during the five hours of each test they were allowed to submit their work whenever they wanted to and they received feedback about their progress. The only surprise for them was their place among the other competitors which they found out when the results were listed and displayed. If contestants wanted to test their sources and get more information about their solutions, after the contests, they were allowed to consult the technical committee during one hour which was specified in the programme.

All in all, the contestants and the team leaders were satisfied with the organisation and used any opportunity to express their opinions in English. They also made recommendations for the young generation, to the delight of our reporters and volunteers, students at the hosting institution. Here are some of these opinions:

“Invest your time in programming! You will make the right decision! The computers are the future and they must be programmed!☺” (Tim Poštuvan – Slovenia)

Our message for the young people is to learn, but not in a conventional way. Education is important. (Czech team)

You have a very nice country and that the people here are very nice and friendly with us. (Florian Gatigno – Switzerland)
